Be Charged

A. Benson died in the South San Francisco Hospital this morning as a result of a gunshot wound inflicted by his stepson, Carl Snell, of Oakland, last week. Snell, who has been held in the county jail at Redwood City, pending the outcome of his stepfather's case, will be charged with murder.

BANKERS PREDICT GOOD YEAR IN SOUTH CITY

Gains in Deposits Show
Growth in Habit of Thrift Here

The outlook for the year of 1924 for South San Francisco is far better than that of the past made by the local bankers today.

They asserted that during the past year, a number of deals were closed for the betterment of the community at large and also that the valuations of the local properties were greatly increased over the year of 1922. In their foresight they predict a better year in every respect.

A grand total of $57,719.23 was paid to the depositors and stockholders of the Bank of South San Francisco which includes the interest and dividends for the year ending Dec. 31, 1923, according to the final figures compiled by D. W. Ratto, cashier.

Mr. Ratto explained there were a total of 2,793 persons who have bank accounts or that they are doing business with the bank in some way.

In his statement for the business transacted during the past year, there were $18,856,971.31 in checks drawn on the Bank of South San Francisco and cashed by that institution.

There were $9,091,781.00 in checks that were cashed by the bank on other banks outside of South San Francisco. The two paragraphs above show that the past year was good for South San Francisco and that improvement on part of business can be increased to a considerable sum.

Banking was good and it is said that the people of this city are beginning to get the banking habit.

During the past ten years a grand total of $225,757.74 was paid to the stockholders and depositors which included the interest on the money deposited and the dividends.

The figures which were compiled by Mr. Ratto shows that a sum of $45,719.23 was paid to the depositors on balances for the year of 1923; plus the interest paid them during the years of 1914 to 1922 inclusive was $202,038.51 making a total disbursement to the depositors over a period of ten years of $247,757.74.

The statement shows that $12,000 was paid to the stockholders, as dividends on their investment in the stock in the bank for 1923; and plus the dividends paid them during the years from 1914 to 1922, inclusive was $66,000, which made the total disbursement to stockholders over the period of ten years a total of $78,000.

The above figures will be greatly increased when new factories will enter the corporate limits of the city and when movement is started to build homes for the people.

C. W. Holston, president of the Citizens National Bank asserted that a Home Builders' Association should be organized for this city to take care of the housing situation which at present is in a serious state.

He stated that if 500 houses were built they would be occupied before three months had elapsed. The association could be able to finance itself and be self-sustaining which in turn would be a great help to the people and the city.

He said that the success in the future should be great because of the wonderful opportunities that are now at our door. More are to follow.

Enterprise Under New Management With This Number

(EDITORIAL)

Announcing with this issue the Enterprise is under new ownership and management. As new management invariably means new methods and new policies, the readers of this paper may expect changes of various kinds, some of which are noted in this issue. One of the new policies, and one in which we believe the people of South San Francisco will be most interested, is the broadening of the news scope of the paper to include a general survey of county happenings, in addition to a full weekly report of the news events of this city. Being affiliated now with a chain of Peninsula newspapers that are established successes in their respective cities, the Enterprise is in position henceforth to take advantage of well organized co-operative resources in news gathering.

Regarding fundamental editorial policy we repeat our statement made in a circular immediately after the purchase of the Enterprise last month:

Politically the Enterprise will be independent, its support of men and measures being determined on a basis of individual merits rather than of party affiliations. The upbuilding and general advancement of South San Francisco will be an underlying thought of the Enterprise in its general policies at all times.

The new management of the Enterprise assumes its tasks free from any factional obligations or alliances. The Enterprise stands on its own feet, and has the same attitude toward all elements of the community, namely, that the newspaper is here to serve the whole public. To that end it will be the aim of the paper to report the news of all circles in the community, and, when controversies arise, to give support to the side that has the greater merit (as we judge it) in its argument.

The Enterprise asks no favors. This paper never will go before the public with the plea that "we ask your support." No business has any right to exist on charity. Its profits must be earned by value given in either commodity or service. The Enterprise has two commodities to sell—news service and advertising space. We offer both commodities at prices that are measured by their worth. No business man is urged to buy space in the Enterprise for any reason except for the benefit advertising will bring to him. That Enterprise advertising will pay is a contention we shall be able to demonstrate through a fair trial. An ad-writing service providing layouts, copy and illustrations, will be at the disposal of Enterprise advertisers without extra cost.

The Enterprise is published in a city of energy, prosperity and great possibilities. The management is in capable hands. There is every reason to start on this period of activity with optimism and good will.

In concluding this announcement, the new management desires to express gratitude for the cordial reception already given by the business men and others of the community with whom the new personnel has come in contact.

YEAR'S RECORD OF ARRESTS IN S. S. F. SMALLER

There were fewer arrests made during 1923 in South San Francisco than the preceding year, according to the announcement made by C. C. Conrad, city marshal, Monday, after completing his report for the year.

A grand total of 163 arrests were made by the local police department for the year ending December 31, 1923, while the report of 1922 showed that 205 were made that year.

The moral conditions seem to have changed considerably within the past year, Mr. Conrad asserted, because the arrests have decreased.

Conrad stated that during the year of 1922 a total of 50 persons were arrested in a single day because of violating the traffic laws. Not all were brought to court, but they were instructed about the traffic regulations and warned of further violations. He asserted that he was satisfied with the report of 1923, but declared that the offenses must still be decreased.

Following is the comparative record of arrests for two years:

ATHLETIC CLUB NAMES MANAGER

The South San Francisco Athletic Club this week announced the appointment of Eddie Harris as manager of the organization and revealed plans for the complete reorganization of the club, which was formerly an important factor in local affairs.

The South San Francisco Athletic Club holds a lease on the lower floor of Fraternal Hall, where it maintains a gymnasium with a boxing ring, a handball court, a punching bag, a pull-up bar, and other equipment essential in a high class gymnasium.

At the present time the club has approximately fifty members, but it is planned to stage a big membership campaign beginning this month. Plans for the membership drive will be announced within the next few days.

"Fighting Jack" Sherman, a featherweight champion, a prizefighter who recently arrived here from New York is working out daily in the South San Francisco Athletic Club's gymnasium and is attracting considerable attention from local boxing fans. He plans to box in San Francisco within a short time and will probably draw a large audience from South San Francisco.

The management is now working toward organizing a baseball team. This team is to be entered in the Manufacturers' Baseball League. Keen interest is being shown in this achievement, it was announced.

TRIO HELD ON THEFT CHARGE IN AUTO CASE

Salvo Francis, Joseph E. Francis and James Joseph, charged with having stolen and stripped an automobile belonging to Henry Haaker, were held to answer to the Superior Court following a preliminary hearing before Police Judge J. G. Walker on Monday morning.

The three men were arrested by Chief of Police C. C. Conrad on Christmas Eve following which they were held in the best of the county jail.

The men are said to have stolen the automobile while it was parked in front of the Johns home on Orange Avenue on the evening of December 12. According to their own testimony, they drove it to the Butler Road near the Edwards Wire Company where they removed the tires, battery, speedometer and other equipment.

The trio then returned to the Francis home where the stolen car was hidden. It is said that the alleged thieves were apprehended after an attempt to sell a portion of the loot.

The men are at liberty on $500 cash bail each. The money for their temporary release from custody was supplied by relatives.

MRS. HAROLD VARONI OF COLMA BURIED

COLMA, Jan. 3.—Colma residents were deeply grieved over the death of Mrs. Harold Varoni, who was beloved by all. She was born here and was a graduate of Jefferson Grammar School. Mrs. Varoni was the wife of Harold Varoni and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Schenoni, and sister of Adolph and George Schenoni. The funeral was held from the parlors of Suhr & Wieboldt, where services were conducted by Rev. Father Charles Bertola of Holy Angels Parish, thence to the Italian Cemetery, Sunday morning. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in this county, and the beautiful floral pieces were numerous and beautiful. The deepest sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved husband and parents.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO OPPORTUNITIES ARE SEEN

By D. R. PHELPS,
Secretary of South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce

The old year of 1923 has passed, and South San Francisco citizens face a new year with prospects of the most prosperous year since the clearing of the past year. Bank clearings for the past year show an increase over last year. Many opportunities for South San Francisco and its citizens will present themselves during the coming year. Prosperity is ours if we will but go after it.

South San Francisco has been confused with "Butecher Town," in the southern part of the county, for many years. Many persons even now do not know where South San Francisco, San Mateo county, is. Our future lies in making the entire State of California and particularly the northern part, know that we are the industrial city at the northern boundaries of San Mateo county, on the San Francisco Bay. Prosperity lies in this publicity.

New Highway To Help Town

The completion of the Bay-Shore Cutoff will bring thousands of people through our city on their journey from San Francisco to southern and valley sections of the State. South San Francisco will be on the main line and will be out of the "side road class" of cities in which it is now is. But little consideration is necessary to come to the conclusion that a city on a heavily traveled traffic artery is bound to grow and grow rapidly. Examples of such growth are the rule, rather than the exception, particularly in California.

The Bay Shore Highway is giving South San Francisco valuable publicity daily. We are known as the place where the "cutoff" begins. Thousands of dollars will be spent in building this road. The completion of the highway will be at the two approaches to the fill on this highway. South San Francisco, being the northern approach, will get the bulk of the business from the men employed in the construction of the road. Being a workingman's town, our stores will attract and will get the trade of these highway workers. Our progressive merchants will surely make a strong bid for such trade.

One of the Peninsula's principal disadvantages has been the lack of direct highway transportation into the great storehouse of California—the San Joaquin valley. With direct communication via the Dumbarton bridge, South San Francisco will be the logical place for locating many industries dependent upon this back country which is still in the primary stages of its development.

The market and the raw materials for South San Francisco products are growing in volume daily. What is South San Francisco doing towards developing factory sites and providing housing for the hundreds of new families who will make their homes here during the coming years?

Channel Project Important

"Government Survey for Developing Channel Off South San Francisco," read a recent news story in the San Francisco papers. This is a partial answer to what is being done to develop factory sites. We have the best location for industries with San Francisco headquarters because of our proximity to San Francisco, the financial center. This harbor survey is now under way and within the next three months a formal request will be made for Congressional assistance in the dredging of the channel which will class South San Francisco as a deep-water port. With the dredging will come development of industrial sites, for the silt will be carried out on our tide lands, thus reclaiming them. We hear many flowery reports of Los Angeles Harbor and its development. Wilmington, Los Angeles Harbor, was a sleepy fishing village but a few years ago. Deep water commerce was unknown to it. Los Angeles in dredging its harbor filled many tide lands in Wilmington, thus creating the valuable lands on which million-dollar and larger industries are now housed. South San Francisco has the same future before it, with the exception that where Wilmington had no large enterprises of any consequence, we have fifteen of the strongest industries of the Bay Region, which bring a payroll of over $200,000 per week to the residents of our city. Can even the most conservative person say that South San Francisco will not be teaming with industries within the next five or ten years? Surely not.

More Homes Needed

Housing has been a subject of much concern to merchants and citizens of our city. No one realizes more than the merchants that their welfare depends upon locating factory employees where they earn their payroll. The pay checks will be spent in South San Francisco if there are proper facilities for housing. Much has been said about the houses that Meyer Brothers are to build but we have learned but recently that plans have been perfected and the first group of houses will be built during the coming months. Local citizens are organizing to build homes to sell. The Chamber of Commerce is receiving replies from letters, sent to interested property owners but a week ago, asking for information relative to the erection of houses upon their lots. Little do we realize that scores of houses will be built in South San Francisco during the coming year.

SENTENCED TO JAIL

Albert Bonnie, colored, found guilty in Judge J. C. Walker's court on a charge of disturbing the peace, and sentenced to thirty days in jail, was taken to Redwood City by City Marshal C. C. Conley, where he is now serving time.

DETECTIVE FOUND GUILTY OF PEACE DISTURBANCE

Charge Grows Out of Attempt to Raid Local Business Houses

Andrew J. Kane, head of the San Francisco detective agency bearing his name, was found guilty of disturbing the peace following a trial before Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin here last Friday and was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 or spend 10 days in the county jail.

Kane was the leader of the band of thirteen alleged private detectives who raided South San Francisco business houses last July in an attempt to make arrests for violations of the Wright Act. Kane and his entire group of operatives were placed under arrest by Constable J. C. Wallace on or disturbing the peace.

A number of operatives were charged of impersonation officers found guilty and were sentenced to pay fines or serve sentences. These cases are now on appeal before Superior Judge George H. Buck, who has not yet set a date for hearing. Several of the private detectives were released for lack of evidence.

Following his conviction and sentencing before Judge Griffin in the local city hall, Kane, through attorney Robert Duke filed notice of appeal from judgement of the justice court. A number of local people were called to testify as to Kane's actions on the night when he was placed under arrest.

HOLDUP MEN ARE IDENTIFIED BY OTHER VICTIMS

Positive identification of John Silva, one of the duo of youthful East Bay gunmen, was made by Police Officer Edward McAuliffe in Redwood City Friday, following the holdup and robbery of B. G. Stock, San Francisco jewelry dealer, as one of the trio of men who, on December 2, held up and robbed Cashner Johnson, another San Francisco jewelry dealer, today featured further investigation into the activities of the two confessed bandits.

Identification of Silva was made by Johnson at the county jail in Redwood City.

Entering the cell where Silva was incarcerated with six other prisoners, Johnson immediately singled him out as one of the trio which had held him up, robbed him and stolen his car early this month. Silva, Johnson asserted, was the one who relieved him at the wheel of his car on the morning of the holdup.

The second development of importance came when Silva admitted having served a two-year term in State Prison. He would not detail his story, but said, "I didn't serve it for nothing."

Silva and Martin Stone, his companion in crime, Friday were held to answer to the Superior Court charges of highway robbery, preferred by Stock, following their preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin. Both took the stand and corroborated freely the story of the crime as outlined on the stand previously by Stock.

The youths have stated that they will plead guilty before Superior Judge George H. Buck.

An exhaustive investigation into the possible criminal activities of the youths in the bay district of late is being conducted by the officers of the county.

EMPLOYEES' MUTUAL FIRE DRILL TEAMS INSURANCE POLICY AID PAYS OUT BENEFITS TO HOLD CONTESTS IS GIFT TO EACH EMPLOYEE

Western Pipe and Steel Company Has Helpful Organization

More than $1,300 in benefits have been paid during the six months' period ending December 31, 1923, to members of the Employees' Mutual Aid Association of the Western Pipe and Steel Company of South San Francisco.

The Employees' Mutual Association was organized in March, 1919, and is composed of only the employees of the Western Pipe and Steel Company.

The association was instituted solely for the purpose of assisting the members thereof in any case of sickness, accident, distress and death and to promote a spirit of good fellowship, fraternity and social intercourse among its members.

All claims have been paid promptly and the association has proved to be a huge success.

The present officers of the association are: Joseph Cozza, president; E. Rossetti, vice president; F. Bosworth, treasurer, and William Vargas, secretary; and the trustees are: H. Felsenthal, F. Josephs, A. Schamberger, Cozza and Rossetti.

The election of officers will be held Saturday evening, January 12. All elections of officers are held semi-annually.

The members of the three fire drill teams of the W. P. Fuller Paint Works are making preparations for the quarterly drill competitions to be held next month for the plant championship.

There are five men on each team and the competitions arouse great interest among all plant employees. A prize of $2.50 is presented to each member of the winning team and $1.50 is given to each man on the team winning second honors.

The drill teams operate hose reels and run for a distance of 150 yards to hydrants. The first team to play water on a specified object is declared the winner.

Ed. Turner, one of W. P. Fuller's pioneer employees and now on the firm's pension list, visited the local factory this week.

CITIZENSHIP IS LURE! SCHOOL CLASSES ARE AID 60 WIN PAPERS HERE!

The lure of citizenship in the United States brought tiny silken flags to the breasts of 60 San Mateo county aliens during 1923. Figures in the office of County Clerk Kneese tell us, thus signifying their acceptance by the courts and Federal examiners here as naturalized citizens.

These tiny flags are pinned upon successful applicants for citizenship by members of the local Women's Relief Corps at the regular hearings of the naturalization court.

American citizenship, with all of its privileges, was sought during the present year by a total of 188 aliens, records show, and while only 60 were granted their first papers, a number of hearings are still pending.

Creation of naturalization classes in night schools here and throughout other parts of San Mateo county are held by officials to be largely responsible for the increasing number of applications for citizenship, with the result that 1924 figures are expected to exceed those of 1923.

The long legged Mr. Stork ran a 365 day marathon with the ratting Skeleton of Death in San Mateo county during 1923, and the Stork won, hands down!

Vital statistics on record with County Recorder T. G. Rice, which, however, are inclusive of virtually none of the births and deaths in Redwood City or other portions of the third township, and which date to December 1 only, show nearly a 2 to 1 lead for Mr. Stork and his infant proteges.

These figures reveal a total of 424 births, as against a total of 284 deaths during the first 11 months of the year.

At the same time that births

American Marble & Mosaic Company Gives Thot to Families

A life insurance policy for every employee of the American Marble and Mosaic Company. This was the Christmas gift from A. F. Edwards, president of the big concern, to employees of his concern.

The policies are to be paid from year to year by Edwards and will increase in value as long as the worker remains with the company.

The lowest policies are for $250, presented to workers who have been with the concern for less than a year. The men with the company more than one year but less than two years are insured for $500. After the second year the policies increase at the rate of $100 per year until the sixth year, when the maximum benefit of $1,000 is reached.

In presenting the men with their policies, President Edwards made the following announcement:

"We have presented our employees with insurance policies, first, as an expression of appreciation in substantial form of the value we place upon their cooperation in our business."

"Secondly, because we wish to encourage them in their duty of providing for those dependent upon them. These policies, payable in case of death from any cause, at any time or place, are the means of providing immediate assistance to families in case of death, a time when help is most needed and appreciated."

The American Marble and Mosaic Company employs more than 75 workers, most of whom are residents of South San Francisco.

VICTORY HIGHWAY TO BE FINISHED IN 1924

The Victory highway—an unbroken transcontinental route from New York to San Francisco in 1924.

This is Utah's Christmas gift to Northern and Central California—a gift the California State Automobile Association and other organizations have dreamed of for years.

The Utah state highway commission last week signed contracts for completion of the last link of the Wendover cut-off in Western Utah, the barrier which has diverted the major portion of tourist travel elsewhere for years.

Last Wednesday the contractor began work on the western end of the cut-off and the work is to be rushed to completion in time. It is hoped, for the opening of the tourist season in 1924.

"Greatly increased tourist travel into Northern and Central California will result from the action of the Utah highway commission in awarding the contract for the completion of the Wendover cut-off," Director George S. Forderer of the Automobile Association said today.

A meeting of the cur route salesmen of the company was held at the plant cafeteria. Eighteen salesmen attended.

Addresses were made by the following officers of the company: F. J. Kelley, C. J. Willen, and H. R. Roth.

A second meeting was held at the St. Francis Hotel where a program including music was presented.

A banquet and meeting of the branch house salesmen of the Western Meat Company will be held at the general offices of the local plant Friday afternoon, it was announced today.

Displays of all products will be on display and general discussion of the merchandise will be made by all the salesmen and officers of the local concern.

GOOD PROSPECTS HERE

Industrial Expansion Will Boom South San Francisco's Growth; Homes for Workers Are Needed

While the country as a whole, and California in particular, faces the new year with high hopes and prospects for growth and improvements, no section has greater cause for optimism on this score than the Peninsula, at which South San Francisco stands geographically at the head.

The drift toward development on the California coast is decidedly toward industrial expansion, and as this is the item on which the future of South San Francisco's prosperity is fundamentally at stake, it is not too much to predict some notable additions to this city's group of thriving manufacturing plants within the ensuing few years, each resulting in an enlargement of local population, local payroll disbursement, and increase in town improvements and retail business.

It is evident, however, that there will have to be more homes provided. At the present time large numbers of employees at local plants are obliged to commute between here and San Francisco because of the house shortage here. Each family that settles in a town is an extra unit of revenue to local business in general. Whatever can be done, therefore, to increase home accommodations, lays the foundation for more business for the local dealer. It is to the interests of South San Francisco businessmen to promote the homebuilding campaign. Every month of delay is a month of loss in local business.

CLERK HAS MEAN JOB HEARS ALL CO.'S TROUBLES BUT DOES RECORD BIZ

And, pray tell, how would you like to be mistress of a clearing house for trouble, and other things?

That is the capacity of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Kneese, ex-officio, county clerk of San Mateo.

Centered in her office in the local court house are all of the complaints, civil and criminal, of people who feel themselves wronged; all of the petitions and pleadings of citizens, with the records of their varying fortunes. It is no secret, either, that there is plenty of trouble to be found in as peaceful a county as San Mateo. Husbands and wives will quarrel! Men and women will disobey the law! Humans will refuse to pay legal bills! And "grossly negligent" citizens will cause "irreparable damage" to other citizens! Therefore, among a mass of other things, Mrs. Kneese and her six assistants must find time to receive the complaints of people, file them and direct them through their proper channels.

Here are statistics along these lines for the year just ending:

During 1923 a total of 561 complaints, civil and criminal in nature, were filed with the local county clerk!

A total of 115 of these 561 complaints, or a little less than one out of every five, are filed by men or women whose ships have grounded in the matrimonial sea. Besides the 561 civil and criminal suits filed, an additional total of 367 probate matters found their way into the probate department of the superior court through the usual county clerk's office channels.

All of which is but a small portion of the vast work of Mrs. Kneese's office, the efficiency of which is recognized. Naturalization petitions, passports, marriage licenses, and a variety of other papers are issued through this office.

Mrs. Kneese's deputies are Clement Nash, Miss E. L. Falvey, Miss Ann Bruland, Miss Nancy Nunn, Miss Mira Sullivan, and Miss Georgia Porter.

The county clerk is likewise ex-officio of the superior court and of the county board of supervisors.

Records compiled for the five year period from 1915 to 1920 showed a total volume of business in the county clerk's office one-third greater than the entire volume of business in the entire history of the office prior to that time. The office was established in 1854. The five-year period, now four-fifths gone, it is plain, will show a huge increase over the 1915-1920 period.

COURT CITATION FOR BUS DRIVER FOLLOWS WRECK

REDWOOD CITY, Jan. 3.—Charges by J. Abad of this city to the effect that he was run down and slightly injured on the State highway near here Wednesday as the direct result of negligent operation of an auto stage by its driver, R. M. Nelson of Palo Alto, led afterwards to the issuance of a citation for the appearance of Nelson before Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin here.

Abad, according to information he gave the court yesterday, was riding a motorcycle at the time of the accident. His cycle was badly damaged, he contends, and he asserts that he narrowly escaped death beneath the bus as it struck him.

Whether or not charges of reckless driving will be preferred against Nelson will be determined upon his appearance in answer to yesterday's citation.

CO. PEOPLE CRAZY? NOT SO COULD NOTICE IT ONLY 34 IN YEAR HERE

San Mateo county people crazy? Oh, not so very!

Only 34 residents of this county were committed to the Agnew State Hospital for demented behavior during the year for which today marks "finis," records of the local superior court, county clerk and sheriff's office reveal. This, representing an average of slightly less than three per month, comparisons with other counties of the State show, is an unusually low percentage of insanity cases.

The closing three months of the present year saw a slight increase, 13 patients being committed, as against nine for the first quarter, five for the second, and seven for the third quarter. All insanity cases are handled through the office of the sheriff.

P. G. and E. is California's code for "SERVICE"

QUICKLY, the alert mind translates the letters P G and E into the word SERVICE.

Thoughtlessly, the average citizen accepts this service as a matter of course, so unobtrusively and faithfully it is rendered.

What is the P G and E? Are you able to answer?

The P G and E is a practical demonstration of intelligent co-operation!

NEW BAKERY OPENS HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

"Harvest Bread" Is Copyrighted Name of Loaf to Be Produced

Five thousand loaves of bread per day!

This is the production capacity of the new South San Francisco Bakery, which will be formally opened to the public by Boldo & Dancle on Saturday night.

The big plant, located in the heart of South San Francisco's fast growing business district, represents an investment of nearly $75,000 and is one of the most modern and complete bakeries on the Pacific Coast.

The progressive proprietors of the bakery have been experimenting for several months and have finally arrived at a receipt which they claim will produce a most excellent loaf of bread.

This bread will be known as Harvest Bread, a copyrighted name, and will be placed on the Peninsula markets in sealed packages beginning next week.

Harvest Bread will be introduced by drivers who will make daily trips through Daly City, Colma, South San Francisco, San Bruno and Millbrae in two beautiful new trucks recently purchased by the firm.

The new plant, which will be open for inspection on Saturday night, is fully equipped and thoroughly sanitary in every respect and has been highly praised by bakery experts and health authorities.

BUS DRIVERS TO BE JAILED FOR SECOND OFFENSES

Jail sentences for second offenses may be the rule for bus drivers found guilty of flagrant violations of traffic laws while operating on the Peninsula highway between San Francisco and San Jose. This was indicated by the sentence imposed last week by Judge Ray Griffin of Redwood City, who sentenced A. H. Weed, bus operator for the Peninsula Rapid Transit Company to five days in jail and suspended the sentence for six months.

As a result of this sentence, if Weed is found guilty of any similar traffic law violation in San Mateo county during the next six months he will go to jail for five days, according to George E. Sandford, general attorney for the California State Automobile Association, who presented the case for the Automobile Club and the Division of Motor Vehicles.

Weed was the first of the bus operators arrested several weeks ago in a drive against improper operation of buses on the Peninsula highway, begun at the instigation of the California State Automobile Association, to be found guilty. He was charged with overtaking and passing another vehicle without leaving two feet clearance, as required by law. Other cases are still pending and will come before Judge Griffin.

BANK OF ITALY HAS BIG YEAR GAINS REPORTED

With resources of more than $300,000,000, representing a gain of $50,000,000 during the past year, the statement of the Bank of Italy for the close of 1923 was published today. Based on figures compiled by the Literary Digest, this indicates that the Bank of Italy is next in size to the Bankers' Trust Company of New York, which institution ranks seventh in the United States.

A total of 485,136 depositors—one-eighth of the population of California—have accounts with the bank. In this particular it leads all of the Nation's banks. Deposits aggregate $277,000,000, an increase for 1923 that parallels the growth in resources.

"This is one of the best years that our institution has enjoyed," said A. P. Giannini, president of the bank. "We have made progress not only with respect to our financial strength, but also in perfecting the organization's features of service. It is especially gratifying to feel that we have won the confidence of nearly half a million people and that we are able to do something for them that is of real benefit."

The growth in number of depositors for the current year has been approximately 85,000. At the close of 1922 there were 401,798, a figure that occasioned nationwide comment at that time, and brought congratulatory wires from various banks throughout the United States. The present total, however, shows a gain of 21 per cent over last year.

With the addition of the new offices recently established, the Bank of Italy now has 75 branches in 52 California cities.

in the near future.

If Griffin follows out the course he has begun in passing sentence on Weed, it will mean that second offenders face jail sentences, for the suspended sentences given in these cases will become operative at once if the offender is found guilty on a second charge of violating traffic laws within six months in that county.

The drive instigated several weeks ago by the automobile association in co-operation with the Division of Motor Vehicles, following numerous complaints from motorists of reckless and improper driving methods employed by bus operators on the Peninsula lines, attracted wide attention when eight drivers were arrested in two days. A mass meeting of citizens from Peninsula cities is planned at Burlingame early next week to consider ways and means of co-operating with the automobile association and assist it in carrying on its program to eliminate reckless and improper driving from the highways.

The traffic bureau of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and the Three Cities Chamber of Commerce are also actively co-operating with the automobile club in its efforts to improve motoring conditions on the Peninsula highway.
